Eric Liddell: Running For A Higher Prize (Heroes For Young Readers)

Synopsis

Eric Liddell (1902-1945) stunned the world by refusing to run his Olympic race on a Sunday, a day he believed was for honoring God. Many people thought he was a fool, but Eric believed God's promise. "He who honors me, I will honor" - and God kept His promise. From winning Olympic gold to leaving his fame behind to go to China as a missionary, Eric put God in first place. Children, parents, and teachers love the adventurous Christian Heroes Then & Now biographies and unit study curriculum guides. Now Heroes for Young Readers introduces younger children to the lives of Christian heroes! Whether reading for themselves or being read to, children love the captivating rhyming poems and unforgettable color illustrations of the Heroes for Young Readers series.

Renee Meloche is the author of the Heroes for Young Readers series, written to inspire children to dream big, stand tall for God, and be a hero. A graduate YWAM's School of Creative Ministries, Renee has worked as a missionary overseas. She served aboard the mercy ship, the Anastasis, where she first dreamed of writing true stories that would encourage children to discover the wonder and joy that awaits them when they live their lives for God.

I was looking for supplemental books for my 1st and 2nd graders church class and I was so excited when I read this one! It is perfect for not only my class but from the 4 year olds and up! It is so wonderful to find a book about inspirational Christians that children can enjoy! I was so impressed with it that I bought several others from the same company.

Fantastic story about a man that obeyed the Lord & in turn the Lord blessed him. Fun to read - rhymes.

Book arrived in good shape. Book appears to be a good easy read for young readers. Would recommend to others.
