Foundations Of The Vocational Rehabilitation Process
Disabled individuals face numerous limiting prejudices and challenges in mainstream American Society. Fortunately, current disability legislation has improved, mandating: (1) Greater involvement of individuals with severe disabilities, (2) Alternative approaches to vocational placement, (3) Provision of independent living services, (4) Expansion of rehabilitation/habilitation services for those individuals with developmental disabilities (5) Protection of the civil rights of people with disabilities and the removal of environmental barriers. Packed with 16 chapters of comprehensive and empowering information, this book presents theoretical and practical assistance in translating those mandates into positive action. It is this dual process of individual and environmental proactivity that can maximize the rehabilitation of disabled individuals. This book is not only for the dedicated rehabilitation counselor, but also for students attending an introductory course at the master's or senior-level and in-service directors who design informative training programs. Includes more than 1200 references, 350 of which are new.

Easy to read and understand.

GREAT PRICE!! HELPED THROUGH MY GRADUATE PROGRAM!!

Required graduate school book.

I am currently in GRAD school and the book store wanted to much for this book and I found it on Amazn at a good price

The seller is awesome, if it is possible to receive any book from this seller, please do so. Trust me, I received my book on time and before the date of the time period. Great Job!!!

I take a rehab. psych. class for graduate school, this book is interesting reading. I'd give it five stars but I think it could be a bit more comprehensive on some issues.

My experience with this company was great!! I ordered my book on 8/16 and received it 8/22!!! Just in time for school!!

Excellent book for someone with no previous knowledge on the subject; everything you need to know A-Z!
