Audubon Birder's Engagement Calendar 2018

Synopsis

This perennially bestselling engagement calendar celebrates the wonders of nature and the birds that inhabit it. Using it is like being reminded every day of what bird and nature lovers stand for—•a world worth keeping untouched, a place of beauty at every turn, of startling diversity as rich with life as an old-growth forest or as silent as a mountaintop. On the right-hand side of every week’s full-color image is a grid with room to jot appointments, birthdays, observations, or sightings. And accompanying each photo, a detailed and informative caption. Wire binding.

2018 could be a better year and to help you be more organized for it is the Audubon Birder’s Engagement Calendar by the National Audubon Society. This calendar is a tradition with me and I always buy it on . With my e-gift card balance and paying standard shipping, I received my calendar in 6 days. In the mailer, it comes wrapped in tight plastic. This wire spiral-bound weekly calendar begins on Monday, January 1, 2018 to January 6, 2019. Inside are 57 beautiful professional photographs of nature with an informative description of each photo, location and the name of the photographer. The lettering of the months, days and numbers are big enough to read. Each grid of the day has space of about 6 inches wide by 1 inch high to write down your appointments, meetings, video conferences, travel dates, hotel reservations and confirmation numbers, phone numbers, birthdays, anniversaries, picnics, family reunions and friend reunions. Don't forget those brunch, luncheons and dinner reservations, Broadway theater dates, movie releases and when you are to attend, DVD releases, college classes and exams and when to pay the bills. Make note of your favorite television programs, radio shows, podcasts, webcasts and live streaming events. Going to a sporting event, concert or festival? Write that down to. You can use your calendar as a daily diary or journal. Includes American holidays and some holidays observed in Australia, Canada, England, France, New Zealand, North Ireland, Scotland, Wales and all of the United Kingdom. Also International holidays, Christian, Jewish, Chinese holidays and more. Moon phases, Equinox and Solstice and the beginning and end of Daylight Savings Time (Saturday/Sunday). Back pages includes information about the National Audubon Society and newsletter and its website and social media. The directory has the headquarters and State offices and a Bird Watching Guide with a 2-page Bird Log. You have a perpetual calendar of 2017, 2018 and 2019. There are 3 lined pages for you to write notes, perhaps a tasty recipe or how to prepare and cook your turkey. There is information on getting a weekly newsletter and a free Page-A-Day digital calendar online. A green page explains how you may become a member and/or subscribe to issues of their magazine. Calendar printed on certified paper from responsible sources. Printed in South Korea. Make it a tradition for you and as a gift to someone to buy this calendar every year from .

I buy the Audubon Birder's Engagement Calendar every year. The pictures are beautiful, but I consider that a plus. I like the fact that there is more room to write than on many other calendars of this type. Also, the pages where you write are not next to each other. I like to clip on a card (for an MD's appointment) on the page opposite to where I write the information. It is so much easier when there is a non-writing page next to the info page. As long as Audubon keeps making these calendars, I will keep buying them.

Like this "week at a time" calendar. Buy every year. Lots of room for notes. Starts on Mondays.

Terrific calendar. I buy it every year.

Beautiful pictures. Love to have more space for writing notes on following year calendar.
